

Human Nature

It was a dull day at the police station. "What a life," grumbled one officer. "No accidents, no riots, no fights, no murders, not even a stolen car. If this keeps up, they'll be reducing the force and we'll be losing a job." "Don't worry, Pete," replied the chief reassuringly, making his move. "Something will happen. I still have faith in human nature!" Calvinists say that man cannot help from sinning because he is born with the sin of Adam, but do not be deceived! Sin is a conscious decision made from someone who was born righteous but gave in to their lusts (Ecclesiastes 7:29; James 1:13-15). Therefore, control your desires!

Kyle Campbell