

The Urgency Of Personal Evangelism

It will not be long until our next gospel meeting, and the following are some shocking statistics that emphasize the urgency of teaching others about Christ.

- When you arrive for services next week, there will be 1,000,000 more lost people in the world than when you arrived last Sunday.
- About 200,000 people will die around the world within the next 24 hours. As you might well guess, the great majority of them have not obeyed Christ.
- A line made up of all the lost people in the world would circle the earth 30 times. This line grows at the rate of 20 miles per day.

Keep our upcoming weekend meeting in your prayers. Use the time to ask someone to attend and hear a lesson about the salvation of their soul.
